

BASE BALL GAME WITH PRINCETON

High Schools Meet On The Diamond This Afternoon.

This afternoon the High School team will meet the Princeton High School team at the League Park at 2:45 o'clock.

Last season Princeton was beaten twice by the local High School bunch and they are coming with great hopes of getting revenge for last season's defeats. They have a much better team this year than they had last year and the game promises to be a hard fought one.

Paducah High School has played both Hopkinsville and Princeton. Princeton beat Paducah by the score of 9 to 7, while Hopkinsville won from Paducah to the tune of 10 to 2. By these scores it seems the High School has a little the best chance for victory, but dope on teams and games very seldom pans out as was expected, so Princeton is going to try to beat the High School's good record.

The local High School bunch have not lost a game to a High School team this season and they are going to do their best to keep up this good record.

The team that will start the game for the High School this afternoon is in splendid condition. The probable line-up will be as follows: Brumfield, C; Higgins or Lackey, P; Tandy, F. B; Roberts, S. B; Breathitt, S. S; Brown, T. B; Espie, L. F; Oldham, C. F. and Hill, R. F.

A great crowd and lots of rooting will certainly make the High School play better ball, and with 'lots of pep' in the grandstand, Princeton will have little chance with the local team on the diamond.

CO. JEALOUSIES IN GOOD ROADS

Henderson and Union Fiscal Courts Can't Agree—Highways Don't Meet.

Henderson, Ky., May 5.—This county and Union county are in a tangle over the selecting of the inter-county seat road to receive state aid this year. Several weeks ago the Henderson county fiscal court selected the Smith Mills-Morganfield road and a short time later the Union fiscal court selected the Waverly-Corydon road. The terminals of these roads are about ten miles apart and under the state road law, inter-county seat roads receiving state aid must connect.

At a special session of the fiscal court, attended by large delegations of boosters for the Waverly-Corydon road, the local court voted six to two, standing pat on their first selection. It is said the Union fiscal court is just as determined to stand by its decision to expend the state aid funds on the Waverly-Corydon road.

Under this condition it will be necessary for the state road engineer to come down here and straighten out the tangle, if it can be done. It seems that the two fiscal courts will never get together on either road.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in the Christian County Court to open a public road, beginning at the Hopkins County Line at Mannington, and running through the town of Mannington, over a right of way already laid off through said town, to the land of The Terry Coal & Coke Co., intersecting the Madisonville road at Old Petersburg. Said road to be about 1 mile in length, and 30 ft. wide. The Court will on Saturday, the 20th day of May, take action in the matter.

GEO. E. GARY'S FINE ADDRESS

In Welcoming T. P. A.'s. Is Published To-Day By Request.

GEO. E. GARY.

Mr. Geo. E. Gary is still receiving congratulations on his recent address of welcome to the state convention, T. P. A. It is published today in compliance with several requests the Kentuckian has received:

"Mr. Chairman, Ladies, and Gentlemen of the Convention:

Howdy, boys, howdy. They've got me down for the 'Address of Welcome' but that's a mistake. What I've got to say will hardly measure up to such a topofical title. It's just a plain, simple howdy do! It may be a little shy of those bright-hued flowers of rhetoric that are long on beauty and short on perfume. It won't rearrange the stars in the firmament, change the color of the ether, operate a road scraper on the moon, nor an emory wheel on the dull spots on the sun, but it's got more real hand-gripping, glad-to-see-you in it than any 'Address of Welcome' that ever bored the life out of a 'helpless bunch' of innocent, unsuspecting visitors, and spoiled their appetites for the whole blasted trip.

"But I forgot to tell you that this 'Welcome' isn't all my personal affair. They told me to extend it to you on behalf of Post J. The only apology the arrangement fellows offer for this is that I was the original T. P. A. man of Hopkinsville—a better excuse was needed, but that will have to suffice. Post J. extends you a cordial welcome. By the way, this city used to be known as the 'Pearl of the Pennyroyal,' but since the establishment of Post J it is known in T. P. A. circles as Jaytown. Now today is Friday, the day on which Jaybirds are supposed to visit the future destination of all wicked traveling men (if there is any such animal), but we Jays deferred our trip this Friday and remained at home today to make of Hopkinsville a home for the really truly, good commercial missionaries of Kentucky. Again we say, Howdy. Speaking of preparedness, they tell it on Judge Garnett, of Cadiz, and Judge Reed, of Paducah, that when they started on a trip to California once they stocked up with two whole cases of 'Kentucky's Best,' bottled in bond, and that wherever they stopped those cases were carted to the hotel along with their less important personal effects, and that in consequence thereof their visit to the Golden Gate was one triumphant ovation acomin' and argwine, and that they escaped election to the offices of governor and chief justice of the same state by the skin of their teeth. Now, there's where Jaytown beats San Francisco. No such preparedness with its attendant excess baggage entered into your arrangements to visit our well supplied midst; and while missionaries never, well-er, hardly ever—yet there are known to be water moccasins in Lake Tandy and it is a day of Preparedness.

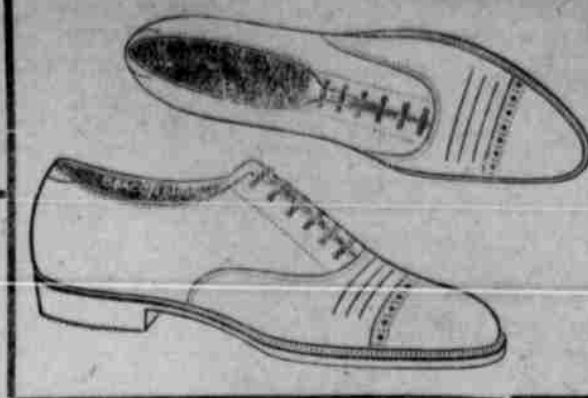

"Post J. wants you to have the time of your lives. We enjoyed your last visit, whether you did or not. I see some of the same old crowd here again. I am reminded of some of the stories swapped at our banquet that evening, where Mayor Head, Sam Jones, Ben Bruner and our own peerless postprandial performers, Chas. Meacham and Tom Underwood, conspired to make the boys miss their midnight train. In serious vein, we feel honored that such a body of men as the T. P. A. of Kentucky should make us their hosts again, after so short an interval. To my mind the commercial traveler is the representative American of today. The traveling men of these U. S. represent the highest average of energy, enterprise, intelligence and patriotism of this great nation. They can make or

Press Reference Bureau.

The Kentucky Press Association's Press Reference Bureau has been issued and far exceeds all expectations of the work, which was authorized by the K. P. A. and compiled by W. R. Schwartz and J. T. Milligan for the Executive Committee. In this work they received the active assistance of Secretary J. C. Alcock, who is entitled to a large share of the credit. The book is intended as a publisher's utility library. It contains biographical sketches of practically all of the newspaper men of the state, together with many pages of other men of affairs all over the state. It is elegantly bound in leather, loose leaf style, is printed on the finest of paper and the work is executed in faultless style. In the front appears a full page portrait of Henry Watterson, followed by pictures of President Jas. B. Stears, Vice President Jno. B. Gaines, Secretary J. C. Alcock, Col. Robt. J. McBryde, Col. Woodson May, Ben F. Forgey, F. M. Thomason, Robt. L. Elkin, Bruce Haldeman and Gen. W. B. Haldeman. Then come group pictures of 72 Kentucky editors, 8 to the page. Short biographical sketches accompany each of these pictures. There are then 20 pages devoted to 20 of the state's prominent men and additional pages contain pictures and sketches of nearly 100 more. Many other pages contain sketches without portraits, with some advertising pages in the back of the book.

Avoid Anger.

Anger is an emotion, and all emotions should be subservient to the will. Keep the rising anger down by the power of your will. Admitted there are many things that cause anger—justifiable anger. Yet, now that you know the scientific truth that anger is a killer of men, and that every time you get into a blazing rage you are pegging back the tale of your years, is it worth while to get angry?

Woman 117 Years Old.

Margaret Talbot, a colored woman claiming to be 117 years of age, died in McCracken county Thursday. A dispatch from Paducah says she was a native of Christian county, born here in 1799. Nothing is known here of her by that name but she may have changed her name since leaving Christian county 30 years ago.

Trenton Touched Up.

The Evansville Courier, one of the best morning papers that comes this way, is cutting into territory heretofore covered by other papers. Trenton, Ky., in yesterday's paper was given a four-column write-up in its series of local articles, illustrated by K. K. Kneet. The ten prominent citizens caught by the artist were: W. A. Dickinson, J. W. Arrington, J. F. Crunk, Rev. H. H. Jones, Dr. E. T. Riley, J. W. Wakefield, E. C. Stockwell, Rev. Ward Russell, C. H. Graves, and last but not least Editor-Colonel-Mayor L. W. Gaines.

Fowler-Crowe.

A marriage license was issued Thursday to Clyde Fowler, aged 17, and Miss Ethel Crowe, aged 16, both of north Christian. The wedding is scheduled for tomorrow, at the residence of Esq. Hamby, who will officiate. The bride-to-be is a daughter of Mr. Ine Crowe. Mr. Fowler is a son of Mr. E. C. Fowler.
